

Blue Asia Grace

We had previously found out that the immigration agency would not give the rest of the family visas until after several months. So would they remain stateside for the duration, or would they fly in for a time, back to the states for a month, then back to the mission field for another long visit, then to Hong Kong to get their visas, finally back to the field. That's a mouthful, and a lot of airplane tickets.

Well, I am very elated to say that God gave some individuals a special job for this mission, and we now have all the extra outgoing funds needed for us to all fly out together on this year!

"Jumping On A Moving Train"

We are now so so close, and we bought the plane tickets. That's so crazy! We recently had a family reunion and had to say a lot of goodbyes. The 'leaving' has already begun. With everything going on, it kind of feels like having to jump onto a moving train.

Please be in prayer for:

- My visa to come through in time.
- All the Traveling and jet lag.
- Finding an apartment.
- 8 more monthly supporters.

God Bless,
Tentmakers Bible Mission
