This is one of the first pictures I ever took when I was in Kenya. It was the first time I was there in 2011. It's of the chai fields outside Nairobi. If you would have told that girl that she would someday have a desire to move there and share the Good News of Jesus...she probably would have laughed in your face. GOD IS AMAZING!!!

As we look to the current situation we find our world in....my heart is drawn back to Kenya, but it is drawn to the lost wherever I am. My heart is torn as the Lord shows us the vast need for His Son.

In my last newsletter (a short time ago)...I let you know that I have a plane ticket for April 8th. As of right now Kenya has closed its borders along with many other borders around the world. I have changed my ticket to mid-May with the hopes that Kenya and all other international borders will be open. As we wait...let us fix our eyes on Jesus...and not forget that He is still on the throne.

I will keep you updated about to all the changes, as they have all happened quickly over the last week. Thank you for waiting with me.

Because of His Grace,
Love and Blessings,

LeAnn
