

¡EXTRA TIME!

Perú doesn't want me to leave yet!

Hey everyone! Please consider this your electronic hug.....🤗! I'm sure that many of you have had to endure all of your connections with friends and family solely through the internet, and it's just not the same. There's one connection for which you do not need internet, and that is with Jesus Christ. Amen!

Thank you for your prayers and support during this time of quarantine. I had no idea that I would still be here when I first set out on this internship, but here I am. It's like the Lord has given me an opportunity to do something, but I'm not always sure what that is. The online Bible studies with the ladies have been AWESOME! I am going to teach chapter 5 of 1 Peter tomorrow, if you want to see me stumble my way through Spanish.

May 24th was the day that the quarantine would've been lifted, but 3 days ahead of that it was pushed back to June 30th. At this time, people ARE allowed to go outside of their homes for a walk, so I took that opportunity and have pictures to prove it. We are not allowed to visit friends and neighbors. The borders are still closed.

The thing that I believe has carried me through this difficult time is God's Word. Matthew 4:4 says it well,

"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God."

I know that some of you are really beginning to consider what is the purpose for your life, and I'm here to tell you that it is to get to know the God that created you, Christ Jesus. If you are not filling your heart with God's Word, then you're really starving yourself of life-sustaining nutrients.

I ask you, with much thankfulness in my spirit, to pray for me as I seek to minister to the ladies in my church and the children that live around me, who I cannot visit personally because of the regulations. Pray that God would give me wisdom and courage to share the Gospel and His Word.

I went for an exercise walk one morning and found these beauties!

This is from the first video conference Bible Study the ladies had! I was so proud of the girl that brought the message.

As always, please let me know how I can be praying for you, and I do pray. Just send a reply to this email.
