

Arise, shine; For your light has come!
And the glory of the Lord is risen upon you.

Isaiah 60:1

Dear friends,

When we look back at God's faithfulness, each year on Resurrection Sunday, it inspires us to look forward to what God is planning for the future.

In this short and sweet newsletter we want to celebrate the unchanging story of our conquering Risen Savior, the greatest story ever told. When death and the grave could not contain the risen Son of God, the victory was won for as many as would believe in Him who was sent from the Father.

The offer God makes today to whosoever is still valid.

And when we read to the last words of the last book of the Bible, we see the Spirit of God is still insistent, extending his offer of living water to us, even after the ascension of the Son: "And let the one who hears say, "Come." And let the one who is thirsty come; let the one who desires, take the water of life without cost." Revelation 22:17 then three verses later we are left with Jesus' personal promise to come back for his flock: "He who testifies to these things says, "Yes, I am coming quickly." Amen. Come Lord Jesus."

Thank you for praying for our daughters. We had prayed less than six months ago that they would have Christian friends their age, and this prayer was tangibly answered. Not only do our girls now have friends at Sunday School and at the Christian elementary school that they attend, but we even have two neighbor girls, also MKs, who go to both activities with our daughters. It is very special and powerful to see how God answers prayer. We are also blessed that our daughters are under godly teaching at their Christian school and at church.

Sending you all our love, joyfully,
JD, Sara, Sarah Ruth & Abigail Bennett

Now that we are back in the US, we would like to visit with as many of our ministry partners and prayer supporters as possible. We know that it is complicated because of social-distancing recommendations. If you would like to visit by phone or in
