Support Update...

PLEASE PRAY

I would like to take a minute of your time to let you know how my support is doing. I will admit, this is part of being a full-time supported missionary that is not my favorite. However, I also know this is an opportunity for me and for you to trust the Lord in how we give, support missions and, live by faith.

Upon returning to Kenya this time, my monthly support dropped to an all time low. This has given me some obvious concern, but again, I trust and believe the Lord has brought me back to Kenya for my good and His glory.

How you can help:

Please pray and seek the Lord's leading in how He would want you to be involved in Kenya?

A one-time gift.... can help in many different ways, including ministry expenses, travel, paperwork fees, setting up my home, etc.

Monthly support... allows for my everyday living expenses to be taken care of. Rent, utilities, phone, groceries, etc. This is where I need the most help.

Prayer....praying for me on a regular basis helps keep me going. Interceding for me is such an encouragement and a necessity for me to continue in Kenya.

Rent: $425
Utility's: $55

Groceries/Dinning
Out: $360
Cell/Internet: $70

Insurance: $126
Transpiration: $160

Total:
$1196

Estimated Monthly Spending: $1196	Monthly Income: $1100	Monthly Income Needed: $1600
--	---------------------------	-------------------------------------

My current budget does not allow me much wiggle room or any room to save for retirement, anything unexpected or just normal savings.

As fuel prices and cost of living have increased all over the world, my monthly budget needs to come up about $300 more per month. This is on top of the $200 I have lost in monthly support over the last few months. Bringing the total need to $500 more each month.

I have received some much needed one time gifts, which helps monthly where I'm lacking. The Lord is always faithful in providing for my needs. I see Him confirming my obedience and service to Him and I'm humbled. I still think that it is my responsibility to make my needs known, though; to share what my needs are and trust that the Lord will bring those of His choosing to come alongside me.

I'm asking you to pray and consider being one of those people who comes on this faith journey with me.

I will be traveling to Uganda for an extended period of time this month. It is election time here in Kenya and on August 9th the people of Kenya will vote for her new president. Kisumu, where I live, can be a hotspot for crime and unrest during election time. More specifically on and after voting has taken place and the winner is announced on August 12th, anything can happen, so it is wise and safest for me to travel to Uganda.

Please pray for peace, safety and calm as elections are fast approaching.

Life and ministry are moving forward and the Lord has given me great opportunities. Last week I was able to teach at a young girls' conference. It was very well attended and many girls heard the gospel and how to know the truth from a lie.

Please pray for the young girls of Kenya as many can become pregnant at 12 or younger.

Thank you to those who already support this ministry. You have been such a blessing and an example of faithfulness for me. I'm excited to see where the Lord takes us.

Praying many blessings for you.

Because of His Grace.....Love, LeAnn <><
