Dear Family and Friends,

Please be praying for us this coming Friday.

COFOPRI will be visiting us in Uchumayo to, hopefully, approve the last of our lots for titling. COFOPRI is the government agency in charge of giving titles in recently settled areas. They have notified us that this will be the last visit that they will make. After that the titling process for our lot will be given over to the municipality. That will be a longer and more expensive process. Just as a reminder, we have four lots: two are titled, one is approved to be titled and this last one that is waiting to be approved.

Please pray that the engineer that is assigned to us will be gracious and that all our documents will be in order. Speaking of documents, almost all our documents were misplaced at some point during our 4 month absence. On Monday we were able to get the most important document replaced but we would really like to have the other documents on hand just in case he needs to see them. Please pray that the lost documents will be found.

This last Saturday was our first Saturday back in Rosario with the Bible study. We had a pretty good group that showed up. It was a joyful time and we thank God for allowing us to be a part of His work here. We also celebrated Nicole's (11) and Delia's birthday afterwards.

We also had the opportunity to have supper with several of those that helped us with the Bible study while we were away. It was a great time of communion with brothers and sisters in Christ.

Thanks for your prayers and support.
