AS OF RECENT

Hello friends and family! Here's whats happening!

God is present

God has been so gracious to me! So much has happened since the beginning of July. I left Michigan on July 16th and made my way across the states. I got to visit quite a few close friends in IA, WY, and NE before arriving in Utah on the 22nd. My car decided to stall while I was driving it the Sunday before I was supposed to drive to UT from WY. A lot of prayer and research was done but no one is super certain what happened. So I ended up driving to UT that Tuesday and didn't have any issues until I was 2 min away from the Harding's home where it stalled again. I was able to shut it off briefly and drive the 2 minutes more. And now my car doesn't seem to have any issues. It's been so cool to see how God has carried me all the way out here! He's provided every step of the way and is still providing for me.

I've applied to at least 20 jobs this past month and went to about 5 interviews and I finally found a job that will be flexible enough for ministry. I start my new job at TJmax on this Monday the 11th of Aug! Praise the Lord! He continues to answer so many prayers and I know that he will continue to do so! He is never worried about whether something will work out or not, he always knows what will happen and I have to keep reminding myself that He does things for His glory and for my good.

Moving and Meeting

Moving to a new place where there are new people, new things to do, higher elevation, new culture is so exciting but can be really overwhelming and weird. I'm kinda feeling like an alien some days but I know that I'll adjust here soon! I've been settling in and trying to find ways to meet more people already! I'm getting to know the church family at Aspen Grove Bible church and that has been amazing and very encouraging! And I spontaneously signed up for a sand volleyball league to hopefully meet new people and get more connections in the area!

I also had the opportunity to meet and hangout with someone whos my age(me and her at a waterfall pictured above) for a little bit this month! I pray that this will be a friendship that will grow and glorify God.

SALT LAKE CITY

The last week in July we had bible club(VBS) which went really well! There was a team from PN that came to help out with that. We went on a trip to Salt Lake City with them to see the LDS temple(pictured above under construction)and their Church history Museum. We also got to go to a Christian research center that walked us through biblical truths, extra biblical evidences that show how reliable and true the Bible is.

It makes reflect a lot on my faith in Christ when I go on these trips and makes me so grateful for just how clear the Bible is about the gospel and how clear God is! Praise the Lord for his mercy to us, the very fact that we are saved by grace alone through faith alone is so amazing!

Living Life and moving forward

So far I have been living with Kim (pictured below) who is a part of the church team here. She was gracious enough to let me stay with her until I find more permanent housing. She has been such an encouragement to my heart through this whole adjusting process and has been such a kind friend to me. We have went to farmers markets, gone on sporadic shopping trips and made some really good food together!

I'm excited to be getting to know people and also getting involved in the church. I got to practice with the music team this last week and will slowly be integrated into helping lead worship on Sunday mornings. Pretty soon we will start youth group back up as well as Bible studies and other ministries that I will get to be involved with! Getting to know the Hardings has also been a huge source of encouragement for me. They are very intentional with their church, their family and their faith. I admire them a lot for that. Pictured above on the right is Christina, Josh and I. We had a prayer time where we broke up into small groups as we got ready for VBS.

HOW TO BE INVOLVED

Last month I received about $700 in support for which I am so thankful for! I am so grateful for everyone who has been praying for me and reaching out to ask how I'm doing and supporting me.

I am however still looking for prayer partners and people wanting to get involved financially. The goal is to be supported at least half of the monthly budget of $2000. Please pray about possibly supporting this ministry! The more support I have the more I can be involved, the less hours I'll be needing to work.

Please contact me if you have any questions, Or if you would like to get involved in supporting me, or if you just want to chat I'd love to share more about what God is doing!
