MERRY CHRISTMAS & HAPPY THANKSGIVING !

There are so many reasons to be thankful year round but thanksgiving gives us an excuse to be extra thankful, which is pretty cool if you think about it!? 1 Thes. 5:16-18 says to "Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you." I'm embarrassed to say that I've got so much room for improvement in all of these areas. But God keeps granting me new opportunities each day to keep growing!

I've been reading 1 Chronicles in the OT this month as I continue through the Bible and while at first glance genealogies seem boring, they contain so much of God's grace and his provision throughout multiple generations of people! It's pretty exciting when you really think about it!

We looked at a building this past month! It seems to be a viable option for our church but we need one million dollars before we could attempt to really move forward and while that seems like a big thing we serve an even bigger God. I have no doubt that if God wants us to have this place that he can do it. So pray for God's will to be done and that we would have courageous faith to move forward, but also a patient spirit waiting on God to provide just the right thing. We've prayed as a church team and believe that we could manipulate circumstances and make things work, but we would rather pray and see God do amazing things if this is truly from Him.

Last month one of my dear friends came to visit me and it was such a huge encouragement to me! I got to give her a tour of UT and show her a little bit of the culture here. I took her to Salt Lake to see the LDS temple, we went on a scenic loop to see the mountains and she even got to come to Aspen Grove Bible Church for a Sunday service! If you ever feel like coming to visit just let me know! I love getting to share what God is doing out here!

This month my niece Hazel was born! So that's a huge praise and excitement back home as well as here! It makes going home for Christmas even more exciting when you get to visit your favorite little people! With Christmas parties, traveling and the holiday rush at work I am not planning to write a large update in December so don't be too surprised if January is the next update you see from me.

Also this month God has been more gracious than I could ever ask or think, he has provided for me again and again in ways I've only ever heard about in Missionary biographies. God has put people in my life that have blessed in ways unimaginable and left me in total awe of Him. With that, I have been researching and shopping for cars and this last month bought one!!! WOW WOW that was so cool!

The Harvest Crusade went well! Grieg Laurie presented the gospel very clearly and thousands of people who don't know the Lord got to hear it! It was very exciting! And a huge praise!

I will be in Michigan Dec 23rd- Jan 6th if you'd like to meet up and hear more about what God is doing or would like me to share at your church let me know!

TO PRAY IS TO BE INVOLVED

I am praying about the possibility of going to Israel in May with Frontier School of the Bible so pray for wisdom in that as well! Keep praying for this church (building) possibility and for new opportunities for our church to grow! Also for those who heard the gospel at the Crusade that they would come to know Christ and get plugged into a bible believing church! Keep Praising Jesus this season!
